

Local amenities when visiting the Queen's Veterinary School Hospital

If your pet is visiting the Queen's Veterinary School hospital for a day procedure and won't be staying overnight, you may want to stay nearby, depending on how far you've travelled. Some procedures and recovery times can take a while, we've put together a list of local amenities that might be of interest to you.

West Hub

The West Hub is situated on the same site as the hospital. The Hub houses a canteen, restaurant, post office and newsagents, plus quiet working spaces if needed.

Eddington

The Eddington development is just a short walk from the hospital. Eddington features a variety of cafes, restaurants, and shops. The area is home to green spaces such as the Eddington Park, ideal for a short walk.

Cambridge City Centre

You'll find a variety of cafes, restaurants, and shops in Cambridge City Centre just a short 15-minute drive from the hospital. The area also boasts beautiful green spaces like Parker's Piece and Jesus Green, ideal for a relaxing stroll.

For those with an interest in culture, Cambridge is home to historic sites such as the University of Cambridge and its famous colleges, as well as museums like the Fitzwilliam Museum and Kettles Yard. Public transport options are easily accessible from the hospital (The U Bus), making it convenient to explore the city.
